Margaret Scharf, DNP, PMHCNS-BC, FNP-BC

Clinical Associate Professor Oregon Health & Science University School of Nursing

Margaret Scharf, DNP has been involved in nursing education for over 30 years and seen many changes along the way. She has taught psychiatric nursing at the undergraduate and graduate level throughout her career. She has practiced as an APN in Psychiatric Mental Health Nursing since 1983 and added a specialty as an FNP in 1995. She earned her DNP at Oregon Health & Science University in the first cohort in 2009, and then coordinated the program for two years in its infancy, returning as the interim Director in 2014. Since 2007, she has closely followed the development, growing pains and triumphs of the DNP nationally, including a keynote at the 2012 DNP conference on "How the DNP is Changing Nursing Education." Dr. Scharf worked on the NONPF PMHNP competencies (2013) and chaired the ISPN Child and Adolescent Division from 2011-13.

Dr. Scharf was the first Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner licensed in the state of Nebraska in 1993. She pioneered the role of PMHNP through a 13 year rural practice in the state, including being the first NP to gain hospital privileges. Her clinical work focuses on improving the physical health of people with persistent mental illness which has included educational innovations such as developing a nursing student run wellness clinic, metabolic screening programs within a community mental health center and current involvement in a reverse integration project where "primary care comes to mental health" to serve the health needs of the mentally ill population.
